20.0 Subscribe/Unsubscribe to Mailers: -

There are many Depot Offices spread across all the Railway Zones and a Bidder might be interested in participating in bidding for a few depots only. This Option allows a bidder to select those Depots from which he/she wants to receive mails/alerts about schedule generation, catalogue publishing, corrigendum etc. in that depot. By default, no railway depot is subscribed at the time of creation. Selection of Depot(s) is not mandatory though, but a user has to sign and submit this page necessarily on first login itself. The related interfaces of this function are shown in the previous section titled: "Login as Bidder User and Updating Passwords".

21.0 Payment Processes: -

Before understanding about payment processes, various important terms, as explained below, need to be understood:

Lien Amount: Lien Amount is the amount marked by the bidder on funds in his bank account, integrated with IREPS. The lien amount will decide the bidding limit and will also be utilized as EMD for lots awarded to bidder. The amount on which lien is marked in favor of Railways cannot be utilized by the bidder unless the same is unmarked through IREPS application by the bidder himself. Once the lot is awarded to the bidder, amount equivalent to 10% of the bid value will be transferred by the bank, irrevocably, to the Railway's bank account concerned on receipt of instruction through IREPS.

Bidding Limit: Total Bidding Limit of a bidder is ten times the Lien amount. Bidder can submit bids for any no. of lots of various depots ongoing e-Auctions up to 10 times the sum of Lien Amount, i.e. bidding limit.

The bidding limit will dynamically change during the running auction based on status of bid. The bidding limit will be reduced if the bidder happens to be highest bidder for any lot(s) irrespective of the status of the lot (whether running or closed). The bidding limit will increase if the bidder is not highest bidder or his highest bid is rejected or lot is withdrawn by the Depot officer.

For example:

Lien Amount = 1,50,000/-

Total in Bidder's E-Auction account = 1,50,000/-

Total bidding limit is ten times Lien Amount.

Total Bidding Limit = 10 X (Rs. 1,50, 000/-) = Rs. 15, 00,000/- (i.e. Bidder can submit bids up to total value Rs. 15, 00,000/- on cumulative basis)

If the Bidder's bid rate is Rs. 15,000/- for Lot Qty. of 50 MT and this remains highest against the Lot, Total Value (Bid Rate X Lot Qty) will be deducted from the Total bidding Limit.

Bid Value for the lot = (15,000 X 50) = Rs. 7, 50,000/-

EMD for the Lot = 10% of total bid value = Rs 75,000/-

Total Bid Value i.e. 7,50,000/- will be deducted from the Total bidding limit, thus decreasing the bidding limit to Rs. (15, 00,000 – 7,50,000 = Rs. 7,50,000)

As soon as his bid is superseded by other higher bids or his highest bid is rejected or the lot is withdrawn, his bidding limit will be restored to Rs 15,00,000/-

If the Bidder wins this lot by the acceptance of Depot officer, EMD amount will be deducted from Lien Balance (1,50,000 - 75,000) = Rs. 75,000/-.

At the time of Auto Decide if lot is awarded to bidder than EMD will be deducted from Lien balance and Instruction will be given to bank to deduct the amount from Lien amount and transfer to the concerned Railway and

Pay through Lien Arrangement

This involves two processes described in section 9.1.1 and section 9.1.2

22.0 Integrate Bank Account for Lien Management

Bidders can integrate i.e. link, their bank account (presently SBI) to mark/ unmark line on the funds available in respective account, through IREPS. The bidders must have „Net Banking“ facility enabled on their bank account to avail this facility.

This link under explanation here in this section titled “Integrate Bank Account”, provides the logged in bidders a facility to select one of their Bank Accounts for Lien Integration with IREPS application. Users need to further log into their Bank Account and then from appropriate interfaces shown on Bank site, they will select one account from the list of active Bank accounts which then will be integrated with IREPS. After the integration is done, users can select any amount available in their Bank Account for marking Lien. Details on marking and unmarking the Lien Amount are mentioned in the subsequent function under the section titled: "Mark / Un-mark Lien". Interfaces related to Integration of Bank Account for Lien Management in IREPS are shown below:

The screenshot displays the IREPS user interface. On the left sidebar, the 'Integrate Bank Account' option is highlighted. The main content area shows a 'Final Notice - Last and Final Intimation Regarding SD Lien Forfeiture' and a 'Lien Balance Details' section. The 'Lien Balance Details' section shows a balance of ₹ 81905947.00 and a blocked amount of ₹ 8446388.90. A 'Sync with SBI' button is visible at the bottom of the 'Lien Balance Details' section.

After this the bidder will be taken to the BANK site where he can login with his user name, password of his Net-Banking account.

After selection of bank Account and confirming the same, message for successful mapping/integration will be displayed and user will be directed to IREPS site.

23.0 Mark/Unmark Lien: -

Bidders will be provided with this link in IREPS to access a function through which they can view existing lien balance and enter the amount for which lien is to be marked/ unmarked from the balances available in their integrated account.

Here the bidders can exercise following two options:

- 23.1 Mark Lien: Bidders can enter the desired amount on which Lien is to be marked out of the fund available in their mapped bank account. Once transaction is successfully completed, the amount will be added to the Lien balance in bidder's E- Auction account. The user's account on BANK side needs to have sufficient balance as required for the desired transaction of Marking.
- 23.2 Unmark Lien: The desired amount from Lien balance can be released by selecting this option by the bidder. Once transaction is successfully completed, the entered amount will be released from the Lien Balance. As Lien balance decides bidding limit (explained later) for a bidder, the requested amount for release of lien will be validated to ensure that the same is not being utilized by him against any lot.

Mark/Unmark Lien

Note:- The amount on which Lien is marked will decide your bidding limit for bidding in E-Auction for Indian Railways. This fund will remain in your bank account. After award of lot(s) in your favour, required EMD amount will be transferred to respective Railway's account. The amount on which Lien is marked can not be withdrawn without unmarking the same by you through IREPS.

Similarly, Lien can be un-marked through the following interface. It may be noted that your bidding limit for bidding in Indian Railway's E-Auctions will be correspondingly reduced as a result of unmarking lien.

- 31.8 Deliverable Quantity/Delivery Unit: If 1 MT = 100 meters, successful bidder will be given delivery of 50 X 100 (50,000) meters of rails in the lot

Bidding is the basic functionality of the auctioning process. All the interested bidders (if not blocked) can submit their bid rate any number of times till the auction is not closed and till they have enough bidding limit to satisfy EMD costs. Bidders need to provide the Bidding password before entering the online auction room to bid on the auctioned lot. Without bidding passwords, bidders cannot bid on any lot. Bidders can also be blocked by various railway authorities for various reasons which can be known directly from the depot / railway zone in which the bidder is trying to participate in bidding. The bidders can access the catalogue and can bid on a lot by following these steps:

- 31.9 View Indian Railways Auction Schedule: Find out live auction by its status. Alternatively, bidder can see "My Catalogue" folder in section Published Catalogues (Live Auction/ Under Decision).
- 31.10 Click the "View Catalogue" icon.
- 31.11 Click the "Enter" icon available against desired lot.
- 31.12 Enter bidding password against selected lot.
- 31.13 Bidding screen showing relevant details will open. Bidders can also see their Total Bidding limit, Bidding Limit Used in all Auctions/Lots , Bidding Limit Used in Current Lot, Account Balance, Current Time, Time Left for Auction Closing, Maximum Auto Extensions and Auto Extensions Used etc. in the Header section.
- 31.14 If some statutory conditions like having Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) license etc. has been prescribed by the depot, bidder will be asked to confirm his credential as a Valid License Holder and input relevant details. It is clarified here that it will be bidder's sole responsibility to satisfy all the relevant requirements for bidding for such lots.
- 31.15 Click On "Enter Rate", pop up will open with some message related to rate, read it carefully and enter your rate, then click on submit button. A message will appear for your confirmation regarding the Rate entered, If you are sure that rate entered by you are correct, click "Yes". Your bid will be submitted and a confirmation message with Bid ID will be shown.
- 31.16 You can close this pop up, refresh the bidding screen and submit further bids in the same manner.
- 31.17 Any number of bids can be submitted before closure of Auction for the lot.
- 31.18 A bidder only sees his own firm's name with the bids he/she has submitted and all other bidder's names are not disclosed till the auction is closed. These names are disclosed only after the auction is over and bidding on that lot has stopped

In a live auction, the interface used for bidding purpose displays all the bids as soon as they are submitted successfully. The display auto refreshes after fixed intervals and no separate action from bidders is expected to show the latest bids, if any has been submitted. Bidders can however, manually refresh the screen by clicking on button "Show Latest Bids" at the bottom of screen. The clock shown in the interface keeps the bidders updated on the current time and also the time left for that lot to close for bidding. Highest bid as received till now is shown at the top of all the bids. One graphical representation of the bidding progress is also available to bidders to see the bidding rate progressing with time in a graphical format. In case a bidder wishes to view the bidding details of a closed auction, it can be viewed as Bidding History in the same view and through the same action icon link. All the interfaces discussed here are shown further in this section.

Some buttons at the bottom of the bidding interface are available during a live auction, which provide the following functionality as per their labels:

Show Latest Bids: Although the interface refreshes automatically and shows all the latest bids as soon as they are registered, still if the bidder wants to manually refresh the latest bid data, he/she can press this button once and the interface will respond accordingly with either latest bids displayed or a message informing us that no more bids have been registered. The interface of this function is shown further in this section itself.

Enter Rate: This button is pressed by the bidder to enter his bid value which will show up in the interface in case it is submitted successfully as a higher bid. Interface puts restrictions on submitting bids lower than the highest bid value already received and a bid which is not incremented by a minimum increment value that is also displayed above in the interface. The interface of this sub-function is shown further in this section itself.

Show All Bids: In a standard auction, bidders can submit as many bids as they want without any time duration restrictions in between two simultaneous bids. There may be times when all the bids starting from the first one are now shown since the count of all bids goes beyond the level that can be accommodated in the screen. In case a bidder wishes to see all the bids then he/she might press this button to see all the bids in a separate window for his reference.

Close Window: This button if pressed, closes the bidding interface and the bidder can select any other lot to participate in bidding.
